Re: Updated quarantine guidelines

The CDC has updated the quarantine after exposure guidelines for those who have been fully vaccinated.

"People who have been in close contact with someone who has COVID-19 are not required to quarantine if they have been fully vaccinated against the disease within the last three months and show no symptoms."

Staff members will not be required to quarantine after exposure in the 3 months after they received their second dose of the COVID vaccine. After the 3 months has expired, if no new guidelines, we will follow the previous quarantine guidelines.

Staff will still be required to follow the Employee Return to Work Guidelines if they start with symptoms.
